

WILL WELCOME SOLDIER BOYS

Fort Oglethorpe Residents to Be Greeted Opening Day of Fair, Oct. 2.

STREET PARADE IS SLATED

Directors of the chamber of commerce at their next meeting will consider plans for a big civic welcome to all of the officers and enlisted men at Fort Oglethorpe when they come to Warner park on Saturday, Oct. 2, the opening day of the Chattanooga Interstate fair.

The fair association has set aside the first day of the fair as "military day" and has issued an invitation to all officers and enlisted men to be the guests of the fair on that day. Not only will the soldiers be admitted free of charge, but a special program of athletic events will be held for and by them, with a large number of cups and other premiums to be contested for.

Another feature of the afternoon will be a football game between Baylor school and Central High school of Knox county.

The soldiers will come up from Fort Oglethorpe during the morning hours in formation, and will parade on Market street. It will be the first military parade in this city since the return of the Old Hickory division, about eighteen months ago.

Members of the chamber of commerce are very anxious to give some public recognition to the present officers and enlisted men at the fort, and as there has been no public demonstration of any kind for the soldiers since the signing of the armistice, it is believed that all interests will join together in making this one of the big days of the fair.

That the fair has already paved the way for giving the men a fine holiday is thoroughly appreciated by the business men, and it is believed that they will co-operate to the fullest extent. Among the events which will be put on by the soldiers are three or four boxing matches among the best talent at the fort. This is a sport which is always enjoyed, and when given at the fair offers an opportunity for ladies to witness the matches. Other events will be as follows:

Mounted wrestling.
Officers' jumping contest, over course of jumps.
Enlisted men's jumping contest, over course of jumps.
100-Yard dash.
220-Yard dash.
440-Yard dash.

The football game will take place immediately after the military events. The afternoon promises to be one of the very best of the entire fair.

MOVIE OPERATORS QUIT

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 7.—All machine operators employed by moving picture houses in this city went on strike yesterday because the managers refused to accede to their demands for an increase of ten cents per hour. They had demanded a dollar an hour, but later trimmed that to ninety cents, and continued operations.

DOROTHY DIX A Man's Ideal Woman

(Copyright, Wheeler Syndicate.)

She must be beautiful, preferably tall and slender, though an occasional man leans to what was once called the "pocket Venus," and is now spoken of in the vernacular as the "cuddly pup" size. No matter what her height or weight, however, she must have a peachy complexion, slender, slender, slender, large eyes, and hair that curls.

Furthermore the beauty of a man's ideal woman must be of the adamant kind that can stand the kicks and cuffs of fate without getting its paint scratched off, or being dented. For the ideal woman never grows scruffy nor fat. Her hair never gets grizzled or thin. She never grows old, for she has not only tasted the waters of the fountain of perpetual youth. She has picked herself in them.

A man's ideal woman is always exquisitely dressed in soft filmy things of delicate, pastel shades and her hair is waved and curled in that artlessly artificial way that only requires a couple of hours to do. If you are a quick worker, a man may be a tightwad who howls with agony, as is she had gotten his life blood, every time his wife strikes him for a hand-me-down frock, but none-the-less this woman is always clothed in Paris creations.

He may expect his wife to cook and scrub, and wash, and tend baby, but he never looks at her bunselow apron and workworn hands without thinking how different she is from his ideal, and that, somehow, a woman ought to be able to be a good cook and look like a lady at the same time.

A man's ideal woman is the clinging vine, even in her latest moments, must stand alone and avoid becoming a burden upon him, but to prop him up.

In intelligence a man's ideal woman knows just a little less than he does. She follows at his heels like his dog and devours hungrily and gratefully whatever bones of his thoughts he throws to her. And she gazes reverently up into his eyes and takes her cues from his looks convinced that he is the real fountain of all wisdom.

No man can ever imagine himself marrying a woman who is cleverer than he is, or has better judgment, or who is more widely informed, and a clearer thinker. Very often he does, but this is only when the woman is so supernaturally clever that she knows enough to conceal from him how clever she is.

A man's ideal woman is always a domestic creature whose dearest ambition is to make the prize angel food in her community. She may have been a society butterfly, or a fashion plate, or a prize private secretary, or a successful professional business woman, but a man never values her, in his mind's eye, as continuing to take any interest after marriage in the thing that was her widest interest before marriage.

His ideal woman joyfully gives up everything for the privilege of cooking things the way he likes them, and would rather turn out a batch of bread such as his mother used to make than to write a sixth best seller or pull off a business deal.

But while she spends her life in the kitchen, she never smuts or the cook stove, nor does her conversation run to recipes and the price of butchers' meat. And, somehow, in the establishment presided over by the ideal woman there are hints to par the sweet serenity of domestic life.

Perhaps clothes grow on the back of the ideal woman as feathers do on hen. Perhaps the ideal woman is a conjurer who can wave a magic wand over the gas range and produce a luxurious meal out of thin air. At any rate, the woman a man sees in the course of his pipe never, never says, "John, the grocer says that if you don't pay, etc. The ideal woman is never sick, nervous, nor frazzled, worn out, and cross. She can be up all night walking a sick baby, and appear as fresh and smiling and radiantly good-natured at breakfast and look as fresh and epic and span as the stenographer who is waiting for a man in his office. But the ideal woman knows by intuition when a man's stomach is out of order and is as disreputable and grouchy; and she can distinguish between temper and nerves, and instead of getting angry when he behaves like a spoilt baby she kisses and hurries up the dinner.

The ideal wife is an adoring worshipper who never gets jealous. She is a slave who hugs her chains. She gives her husband freedom to wander, stays out herself, and is the champion forger of the universe.

And there isn't any such person.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seashore or country with brown, reddened or freckled skins will be wise in immediately taking up the mercurized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make it pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the discolored outer skin is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of skin peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no harm is caused and the face shows no trace of its use. Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following beautifying lotion at this season is highly advisable. Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel one-half pint. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.—(Adv.)

Patriotic Notes At Kiwanis Lunch

Rev. Claude E. Hill was the chief speaker at the Kiwanis meeting today. He made a patriotic talk, pointing out the need of teaching high ideals of the government and carrying on the work started by the forefathers of the country. The country must have the right type of citizenship, he pointed out, if it is to go forward. Dr. Hill declared that we are proud of our great wealth and of our beautiful land, but that we are proud of all of our high ideals.

"Patriotism in its final analysis is but love for the place where you were born and the land where you live," declared the speaker. Continuing he expressed satisfaction that sectionalism has disappeared and that the Mason and Dixon's line is but a memory. A final patriotic atmosphere was given to the meeting with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," recitation of the pledge to the flag, and the singing of "America," just before adjournment.

George F. Milton, chairman of the annexation committee, made a brief report on annexation, explaining why an annexation bill was not passed by the extra session of the legislature, due to the language of the governor's call and the breaking of the quorum, and urging that partisan politics be forgotten in voting for candidates for the legislature who stand for annexation. Richard Park reported that over $200 had been cleared by the picnic and had been turned over to the ladies' auxiliary for the baby hospital. A good attendance at the district convention, which will be held in Louisville on Wednesday and Thursday, was reported. The club was presented with an American flag by the ladies of relief corps No. 2, auxiliary to post No. 2, S. A. R., at the weekly meeting held at noon Tuesday at the Hotel Patten. A committee composed of past division presidents from the relief corps was present. The flag being presented by Mrs. Anna Gilbert. The ladies present were Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Sadie Gilbert, Mrs. Rachel Marshall and Mrs. W. L. Baker. In a few words President Paul Campbell thanked the ladies.

Mrs. Marshall explained something of the work of patriotic instruction done by the ladies for the past thirty years. It being their place to see that each school, church and organization has a flag and that patriotism is taught in the schools.

The plan of the Kiwanis club to have speakers from the membership visit all the schools to make patriotic addresses was taken up. President Campbell an-

No Way to Undo Suffrage Victory

Washington, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Senator McKellar arrived here yesterday from Memphis to look after an accumulation of matters in his office. "I am here," Senator McKellar said today, "to dispose of some important matters incumbent upon me, the principal thing being the settlement of the federal judgeship."

"I have an engagement with Attorney Palmer for tomorrow to consider the judgeship and I hope that we may make some progress toward reaching a decision."

On the question of Gov. Roberts' certification of the latest action of the lower houses of the Tennessee legislature, and as to what attitude Secretary Colby would take in the matter, Senator McKellar expressed the view that nothing would come of the new developments, but that ratification as originally certified to by Gov. Roberts and formally proclaimed by Secretary Colby would stand unimpaired.

"In my judgment," said Senator McKellar, "there is no way to undo what has been legally and regularly done and that the enfranchisement of the women has been completely and permanently effected and can not be undone."

FAIR KIWANIANS NAME NOMINATING COMMITTEE

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kiwanis club, held Tuesday at noon at the country club, the president, Mrs. B. E. Loveman, appointed the following members to serve on the nominating committee: Mrs. Willard Steele, chairman; Mr. H. L. Fancher, Mrs. W. E. Heron, Mrs. W. A. Meyer and Mrs. E. F. Hubble. The committee was authorized to make its report at the October meeting of the organization.

Various reports from the chairman of the different committees were made including one by Mrs. F. E. Mahoney showing that during the recent Kiwanis picnic a total of $337.72 was cleared for the baby hospital. It was announced that this brings the special fund up to approximately $1,000. Mrs. Mahoney urged that the club members not stop their efforts until the fund had reached the $2,000 mark.

Mrs. George MacKenney, chairman of the by-laws committee, read the by-laws to the club members present and with a few slight changes they were adopted. Those serving with Mrs. MacKenney were Mrs. Hoy Webb and Mrs. John Pope.

Mrs. V. C. Finer, who was in charge of the luncheon committee, had individual tables arranged for the gathering, instead of the usual long tables. On the center of the tables were placed silver baskets filled with flowers of the season.

In the absence of the secretary Mrs. David P. Houston was made secretary pro-tem.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Walter Heasley gave a vocal selection which proved to be very delightful. Mrs. Kenneth Whitaker gave a beautiful violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. George Lawton.

IT'S WRONG FOR WOMEN TO SUFFER

STELLA-VITAE RIGHTS THE WRONG

And women NEED not suffer from the ill peculiar to the sex. STELLA VITAE is an eminent doctor's prescription that for three generations has been RELIEVING suffering women and keeping young girls from BECOMING suffering women.

Sold by your druggist; upon the distinct agreement that if the FIRST BOTTLE gives no benefit, he will refund the money. STELLA VITAE can do no HARM, even if it does no good. Why not TRY it—instead of suffering?

Mrs. Susie Sutton, of Dunmore, Ky., says: "I couldn't stand on my feet an hour without lying down, I used one bottle of STELLA VITAE and now I can be on my feet all day."
